

IMPEDING STATE DEVELOPMENT.

Senate Bill 106, introduced by Massey, providing that State and county supplies shall be purchased in the State of Nevada, is the only bill protecting home industry ever introduced in a Nevada Legislature. It passed the Assembly almost unanimously, but when it reached the Senate it was regarded as too radical and broad a measure by some of the old foggy holdovers.

Of course Comins, of White Pine was at once on his feet attacking it and Williamson, whose legislative horizon never seems to reach beyond his own county, was on deck to help Comins kill the bill.

These two men have done more to hamper legislation and fritter away valuable time than any two men that ever sat in the Senate.

It costs the State more to hear Comins talk than he saves by the scrimping economies he is always advocating in order to make a trimming record.

The bill was to make the State of Nevada patronize and recognize its own industries.

Comins seems to take a monomaniacal delight in obstruction and long palaver and he jumps on every proposition in sight with an alacrity only equaled by the way he grabs his big White Pine mileage.

No sensible man who believes in his State could oppose such a bill, and the Senators who tacked on childish amendments to beat the bill indulged in nonsensical boys' play, out of place in a legislative body.

The people are tired of sending men to the Legislature to indulge in such pranks.

Senator Foley stepped to the front and rebuked those triflers in good shape. He stood in for Reno flour, for Mason Valley butter, for Carson dry goods and Humboldt potatoes.

The bill was aimed at a practice indulged in a good deal by State, officers and county officers of sending orders away to San Francisco for supplies and pocketing commissions on the order, while home merchants who pay taxes are ignored.

If Comins, Williamson and others are so anxious to help California business men at the expense of Nevada producers, they should go there and live. Their place is in the California, not the Nevada Legislature.

Foley rescued the bill from destruction and made it a special order for 2:30 today.

HE DOWNED THE BOSSES.

The Sacramento News pays the following well deserved tribute to the editor of the San Francisco Star. It says:

James H. Barry has been proposed by his friends as a proper person to recommend to President Cleveland for Superintendent of the Mint in San Francisco. If we had the appointment in our power Barry would have the place against all other applicants. It would be a magnificent triumph over the boss gangs to appoint Barry. No man could be farther from them than he. He represents the very antithesis of bossism, and all the political corruption that attends it. He stands like a rock against the hoodlums, gangs, and his voice and pen have never been invoked in vain when a weak but just cause has been assailed. The very idea of recognizing such a man as Barry seems to come with peculiar force and favor at this time when President Cleveland has set the keynote of his administration by appointing Judge Graham to the first place in his Cabinet. If he should follow this up by appointing James H. Barry to an important position, it would be a timely warning throughout California that the political strikers need not apply.

The News gives it cordial co-operation and indorsement to any effort to bring Barry to the favorable attention of President Cleveland. He is a bright, able and fearless champion of the right, and it would be refreshing to see such a man rewarded with a high political office. No man possesses the Jeffersonian qualifications, fitness and integrity, to a greater extent than Barry.

The APPEAL can indorse every word of the above. Barry with his little weekly shield his castor into the ring when the big dailies were afraid to attack the entrenched corruption of the municipal bosses. No one dared fling a lance at Buckley but Barry. No one else dared to show up the shameless corruptions of the purchased judiciary.

After he had made the first real breach in the wall, and had the enemy frightened, the balance of the State press came in and gave their laggard support. The people of California should give Barry full recognition for his work.
